CONNECTED APPLIED INTERNATIONAL

Energy revolution, international trade or resource usage as global challenges are typical interdisciplinary study topics of the Ruhr Master School (RMS). The RMS offers interconnected and practical oriented study programmes, where your international experiences are highly valued.

Go international with RMS

To work in a global context is an increasing part of daily working life. International experiences allow us to see the bigger picture and bring advantages for the individual career. Economy, industries and sciences see a great value in intercultural competences.

Goal of the Ruhr Master School is to promote cross-border, intercultural exchange as well as international competences to prepare students for an international career.

- Are you planning a semester abroad?
- Are you interested in a career at an internationally operating company?
- Do you want to meet international experts at conferences?
- Would you like to be able to communicate and interact competently within an international team?
- Could you imagine writing your thesis abroad?
- Are you thinking about global tasks of our present time?

Are you interested? The Ruhr Master School will support you proceeding your international and intercultural competences in close cooperation with the International Offices.

RMS Certificate of International Competences

RMS Certificate of International Competences: After successfully completing three out of four components, you will receive a certificate issued by RMS. The certificate is a reference for your international competences.
